Kensington, July 14.

THE following humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of Winchester, having been transmitted by George Brydges, Esq; one of the Representatives in Parliament for the said City, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, was by him presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of Winchester.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of your ancient City of Winchester, do humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on the Birth of the young Prince, and hope we shall have many Opportunities of addressing your Majesty on the like Occasion. This happy Addition to your Royal Family, is a great Pleasure and Satisfaction to us, and all other your loyal Subjects; and we hope that under a Race of Princes descended from your Majesty, and formed by your Example, the Happiness of our Times will be transmitted down to our latest Posterity. With Hearts full of Thankfulness and Gratitude we acknowledge the many Blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's Government; may the same be long and glorious, your Throne be established in the Hearts and Affections of your People; and may you be succeeded by one of your own Royal Blood, who shall inherit your Virtues as well as your Kingdoms. In Testimony whereof we have affixed our common Seal, this One and twentieth Day of June, in the Twelfth Year of your Majesty's happy Reign.

Vienna, July 9, N. S. Letters from the Army commanded by the Grand Duke of Tuscany with Felt Marshal Count Konigsegg, dated the 30th past, give an Account of their Arrival at Slatina; and that the next Day they were to continue their March, pursuant to a Resolution taken in a Second Council of War that had been held: That in the mean while Prince Lobkowitz was marched back into Transilvania with Part of the Troops which he had brought to the Porta Ferrea. By Letters which the Governour of Orsova has found Means to convey hither, it is advised, that the firing of the Turks against the Town diminished daily; that they had not yet ruined any Work of the Place; and were they to take no better Measures for the Siege, he the Governour pretends to be able to hold out six Months longer. The Grand Vizier was reported to be at Nissa. P. S. An Express has brought Letters of the 2d Instant, importing, that the Imperialists had passed the River Temes over the Stone Bridge which the Turks had left standing; and that, according to the best Information, the latter were retired towards Orsova, after having left some Troops in Meadia.

Dresden, July 16, N. S. The Recruits and Supplies for the auxiliary Troops are at last got into Silesia, and may reach that Corps in about 15 or 16 Days Time.

Hague, July 22, N. S. We have received Letters from Vienna dated the 12th Instant, advising, that on the 10th Count Pertusati, an Italian and Adjutant General, arrived there, with an Account of a considerable Advantage that the Imperialists had obtained over the Turks, the chief Particulars of which are as follow: On the 3d of July some Parties of the Turks appeared, to take a View of the Imperial Army. The Great Duke and Count Konigsegg perceiving those Parties to be increased by others, two Regiments of Hussars were detach'd to discover the Number and Situation of the Enemy's Forces: The Hussars soon came to Blows with the Infidels, and retired with the Loss of 8 Men killed and about 20 wounded. In the mean time the Imperial Army marched on in order of Battle; and on the 4th came to Cornua, three Leagues from Meadia; they there saw that the Enemy were posted on all the neighbouring Hills, and the Imperialists put themselves ſelves into Order to give them a good Reception if they ſhould move to attack them, which it was not believed they would attempt, becauſe it rained very hard. But during that hard Rain the Turks marched down from the Mountains, and attacked the Left Wing of the Imperialiſts with great Fury, and with ſome Execution. General Wallis commanded there, and being ſeconded by the Prince of Hildburgſhauſen at the Head of the Grenadiers, repulſed the Turks with great Bravery. The Turks charged likewiſe the Center of the Imperial Army, and the Fight was very hot from Two in the Afternoon till Six, when the Turks were put to Flight, chiefly by the gallant Behaviour of the Imperial Horſe. The Enemy would have been purſued, had the Rain permitted it. The Imperialiſts remained Maſters of the Field of Battle, having taken four Cannon, a great Number of Arms, Horſes, and ſome Standards. Six hundred Turks were found dead on the Field, but their known Cuſtom of carrying off their dead, renders it probable that their Loſs was much greater. The Imperialiſts loſt about 500 Men, among them 40 Officers; the chief of which are, the Colonel of the Regiment of Bareith, Count Traut Captain of Dragoons in the Regiment of Kevenhuller, the Marqueſs Botta an Italian Nephew of the General of that Name and Captain of Foot in the Regiment of Young Daun; the Count de Lamberg Lieutenant Colonel of the Regiment of Kevenhuller, was wounded. General Wallis in his Letter to the Emperor, writes, "All "your Majeſty's Troops did well, but eſpe- "cially the Cavalry." The Imperialiſts lay upon their Arms the Night between the 4th and 5th, and Count Konigſegg having heard nothing of the Enemy, reſolved on the 5th to continue his March towards Meadia.

Whitehall, June 26, 1738.

Whereas on the 6th of May laſt, about Nine of the Clock in the Evening, the Tyle-Houſe of Thomas Colebrooke, on Clapham Common in the County of Suſſex, was, as there is great Reaſon to apprehend, wilfully and maliciouſly ſet on Fire, and burnt down, whereby ſeveral Thouſands of Tyles were ſpoiled, to his great Damage and Prejudice: His Majeſty for the better diſcovering and bringing to Juſtice the Perſon or Perſons concerned in ſo heinous a Crime, is pleaſed to promiſe His moſt gracious Pardon to any of them who ſhall diſcover his Accomplice or Accomplices, ſo as he or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

HOLLES NEWCASTLE.

And as a farther Encouragement for the Diſcovery of ſuch Offender or Offenders, Thomas Colebrooke does hereby promiſe to pay the Sum of Ten Pounds to any one of the ſaid Offenders who ſhall diſcover his Accomplice or Accomplices, ſo as he or they be apprehended and convicted as aforeſaid.

Whitehall, May 20, 1738.

It having been repreſented to His Majeſty, That a moſt notorious and wicked Practice has of late Years prevailed, and does now particularly prevail, to a very high Degree, in His Majeſty's Foreſt, called New Foreſt, in the County of Southampton, for Perſons unknown, not only to cut down Trees, and Part of Trees, fit for the Service of His Majeſty's Navy, but likewiſe to ſteal and take away from the ſaid Foreſt, Timber, after it has been ſquared into proper Lengths for that Service; and it being apprehended, that the Perſons guilty of the ſaid Theft are chiefly encouraged thereto by Perſons in the Neighbourhood, who receive the ſame from them: His Majeſty, for the better diſcovering and bringing to Juſtice the ſaid Offenders, is pleaſed to promiſe His moſt gracious Pardon to any one or more of them, who ſhall diſcover his or their Accomplice or Accomplices, ſo as he or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. And as a farther Encouragement thereto, His Majeſty is pleaſed to promiſe a Reward of Twenty Pounds to any Perſon or Perſons, who ſhall diſcover any Perſon or Perſons, that have ſtolen, or may hereafter ſteal, any Timber from the ſaid Foreſt, as aforeſaid, or that have received, or may hereafter receive, any ſuch Timber, knowing the ſame to be ſtolen, ſo that the ſaid Offender or Offenders may be apprehended and convicted thereof; the ſaid Reward to be paid by the Surveyor General of his Majeſty's Woods for the Time being, on the Conviction of any of the ſaid Offenders.
